FOR THE

CURE OF THE LIQUOR HABIT

The following unsolicited Testimonial speaks or itself:—

Wellington,
6th December, 1892.

DEAR SIR.—The Medicine I got from you has had a marvellous effect on me, and I shall always feel grateful for it. I have now no fear of being a 100 miles from any hotel, as the craving for liquor has entirely gone since I have taken your Cure. I am in better health and enjoy more refreshing sleep than I have experienced for many years. I can now take a glass, or even two, of Whisky or other liquor with a friend, and can stop without feeling any inconvenience.

GENTLEMEN,—In answer to your enquiry, re my opinion of the Wertheim Sewing Machines, I have pleasure in recommending it very highly indeed, having used one for now over 12 years, and during that time have not spent one penny for repairs, and only broken 3 needles, though I have used it very hard and constantly during that period in almost every class of work. I think with this experience I cannot but be highly satisfied, especially when friends and neighbours are continually grumbling about the trouble they have with other makes of machines.

Or is my sewing on a silken gown,
Thy presser rests like thistle down;
No frays or puckers make me frown,
All stuff's alike with Wertheim!

If on my carpet's well-worn face
I seek a thrifty patch to place,
Presto! tis done at magic pace,
By thy strong arm, my Wertheim!

When there's a wedding in the wind,
Thy aid we beg, oh! Werthiem kind,
To hem, braid, stitch, till all's combined
To form the trousseau, Wertheim!

Still in thy praise my willing nib
Might further write without a fib;
Thy gifts so varied make me glib,

Pinfold's Metronome

IS the Most Important Invention introduced to the Musical World.

Testimony from the Organist of St. Paul's Cathedral, Wellington, and Conductor of the Wellington Harmonic Society.

Testimonial

M. J. BROOKES,
Manager, The Dresden Piano Co.,
Wellington.

Dear Sir,—

I have carefully tested a "Pinfold" Metronome with one of the best English instruments and I find it absolutely true in its working. I had already received, from well-known Musicians in England, strong recommendations of the new Metronome, and I can now personally endorse them. Its noiselessness, and the impossibility of getting out of order, are not the least of its recommendations, and its price (about one-fourth of that of a good English Metronome) places it within the reach of every Musical Student.

I am, yours faithfully,

DIRECTIONS.

In the Programme the Courses are Referred to as
Nos. 1, 2, 3, and 4.

- No. 1 COURSE is—From near the wharves round a buoy off the Koro Koro, thence to and round a buoy over the wreck of the Willie McLaren, thence to and round a buoy or flag-ship off the Wharf. Yachts to keep on town side of both Soames and Ward Islands. Twice round. This course for a southerlywind. For a northerly wind, the first buoy to be rounded will be the Willie McLaren buoy; then the Koro Koro buoy, and the flag-ship or buoy off the Wharf. Twice round. Distance about 31 miles.
- No. 2 COURSE is—Round buoy off Halswell Point, and Club buoy, north of Ngahauranga. Distance about 20 miles, twice round.
- No. 3 COURSE is—Round buoy off Point Jerningham, and Club buoy off Kaiwarra. Distance about nine miles, twice round.
- No. 4 COURSE is—Round buoy off Point Jerningham and Hinemoa's or Stella's buoy, off Railway Wharf.

(a) For all sailing races, in northerly winds, the buoys used to mark the course are to be kept on the port side; and in southerly winds, on the starboard side of the yacht or boat when rounding.

(b) In completing once round the course, or more than once as the case may be, and in finishing races, competitors will leave the coal hulk moored off the Queen's Wharf, and which has the Club's burgee flying on it, on the port hand in northerly winds, and on the starboard hand in southerly winds. But should the hulk be moved, the flag will be placed on the southernmost buoy.

(c) The starter will fire a gun at 9 a.m., on Anniversary Day, and this will indicate to competitors that the Committee considers the weather sufficiently favourable to begin the programme. Should the weather not be favourable the decision of the Committee will be posted in the Empire Hotel. Should the weather be fine overhead, the water sports and side-show programme will be proceeded with.

(d) For all events two to start or no race; three to start or no second prize, unless otherwise specified.

(e) The Committee reserves the right to make deductions from the advertised prize money should funds be short.
